

Sonate Nr. 1

A photograph of a three-manual pipe organ console, showing the keyboards and the stop tabs with labels for various stops. The organ is made of dark wood and features three manuals (keyboards) with black and white keys. To the right of the keyboards are three rows of stop tabs, each labeled with the name of a stop and its number. The stops include various reeds, flutes, and strings. The organ is set against a dark background, and the lighting highlights the wood and the keys.
